

Do I need a Veterinary certificate?

Veterinary Health certificates are required for certain materials falling under certain categories. Full details of the types of certificates required and how these should be completed are shown in the ISIA/EDMA Guidance Document.